FOOD & BEVERAGE

Chef's Cravings:

Well now that we have made it to April we get to watch everything bloom and come alive. Easter Brunch is the first day of April this year, so that also makes it April Fool's Day. Watch out, we may be up to some good ole tom foolery that day, but nothing that would jeopardize the quality of the members experience on Easter Brunch. We look forward to seeing everyone out here! I know I usually talk food here but for me April means something even bigger, larger than life; WrestleMania! That's right, as most everyone knows I am a huge wrestling fan. I have been a fan since I was 4 years old. This year is WWE's 34th WrestleMania and has some big matches lined up. Not only is the weekend of April 6th – 8th WrestleMania weekend, but it has all kinds of wrestling things happening. April 7th is the Ring of Honor Supercard of Honor XII and WWE NXT Takeover New Orleans. So as an avid wrestling fan it's a big weekend for me. Before, after, and during we will be covering this on my podcast Heels and Quads. If anybody reading this still watches wrestling, feel free to give me a shout and we can talk wrestling!

After all my boring wrestling talk, let's get back to the food. I am now carrying cage free eggs because they are a much better product in general. I hope everyone has been enjoying the new menu format as well. If so, we will continue to run with that. I usually keep it to a steak, pasta, and a seafood dish of some kind. On the note of menus, we will also start working towards the spring/summer menus as well as begin working on ideas for the pool menus. After Easter, we will hammer out all that good stuff. We hope everyone has a great Easter weekend and we look forward to seeing you around the club!

- Chef Levi Zindl

Peter's Ponderings:

My Pappy used to tell me: "You don't tug on superman's cape, you don't spit into the wind. You don't pull the mask off that old lone ranger, and you don't mess around with Jim." I always wondered what all that meant and who the heck Jim was, until I discovered it was a song by Jim Croce. Pappy was telling me in effect "don't do things that are ultimately self-defeating". This translates clearly into club management decisions such as hiring. I've worked places that hire staff that have questionable attributes, just to fill empty positions; self-defeating. I've witnessed managers micro-managing smart and ambitious staff; self-defeating. Our strategy is to hire good people, no matter how experienced, then train them. The vetting process to determine "good" starts with the candidate's appearance and demeanor when we first meet. Kiana then has a series of simple questions to get them to talk, as if they are speaking with members.

Finally, we discuss the candidate. I'll meet with the person for a second interview if we're on the fence. The "X-factor" is gut. We all have gut feelings about people and Kiana is one of the best. We are confident you'll see that the end results are friendly, attentive staff eager to provide the club experience you expect. Speaking of self-defeating, Easter falls on April Fool's Day this year. I had a notion to do Christmas decorations for Easter Sunday brunch, but I was convinced that decision would be spitting into the wind. Thanks Jim (John).

GOLF & GREENS

Golf & Greens:

In this space last month, I mentioned that we would be aerifying greens soon. We were fortunate to catch some really good weather on Monday, March 5th and the process went really well. The greens are fully healed and in great shape heading into the golfing season.

I also mentioned that we would be closely monitoring any winter injury to our bermudagrass from the severe cold stretch we experienced this past January and February. As we are beginning to green up, it appears all the fairways and tees are in great shape, for the most part. We are seeing some winter injury and/or winter kill in some areas in the collars. It is still early and we have not had many warm days yet, so we expect many of these areas to recover. We will aerify around the greens and any other areas that have not yet greened up and try to encourage some growth from stolons and rhizomes beneath the surface. We will then resod the areas that do not respond. I expect to begin any sod work in about 3 to 4 weeks.

Thank you all for your continued patience with our cart path restrictions the last few months. I firmly believe it played a vital role in minimizing winter injury in our high traffic areas. As it warms up and dries out, we should be able to allow cart traffic to utilize the 90 degree rule.

Emilio Sanchez, our resident rock mason, has been hard at work installing more native stone edging to some areas of cart path. He does a great job with this and we are very fortunate to have him at FCC.

Also, look for some changes to the landscaping behind the clubhouse soon. Last spring we made some changes to the landscape in front of the house and intend to do some more behind the house in the coming weeks.

Make sure to sign up for the Breakfast Scramble. It is always a fun event and a great way to kick off the golfing season. I look forward to seeing you on the course.

-Brandon Nichols, Golf Course Superintendent
